Early Assessment Support Team or EAST --provides information and support to young people who are experiencing symptoms of psychosis for the first time.

Psychosis is more common than most people realize, it is caused when a chemical imbalance in the brain changes how people perceive things, and it affects 3 percent of teens and young adults. It can be signaled by many things, including a drop in grades, out of character behavior, withdrawing from others, not sleeping for days, or seeing or hearing things that others do not. With early treatment, psychosis is as treatable as diabetes.
